

OCELOT OMELET

began in 2006 as an improvisational group started by Os Calaveras. Not interested in conventional style in any sense, Ocelot Omelet declared themselves a "real band" and never looked back.

Through years of experimentation, their sound slowly mutated into something far beyond the original scope of it's creators. Through non-traditional time-signatures and song structures, the music takes you on a journey into the dark recesses of human consciousness, leaving you far from where you began. Incorporating sequenced drums and synchronized lights into their live show, they seek to further disorient the listener.

With the help of legendary Seattle producer Jack Endino, they have recorded 2 albums that defy genre. Their latest, Pleasure Trauma, currently awaits release. A 2-piece ensemble, Ocelot Omelet are making music that sounds original; music that defies the norm; music that dares to dream.

Join the brotherhood of the Aardvark —journey with them through sound and time; "Do what thou wilt shall be the whole of the law."
